FOREWORD

WE the Staff of 1929 Pioneer present this Year Book and lay it an humble offering at the feet of our Alma Mater on this her Diamond Anniversary. If in these few pages we can reflect some of the ideas, some of the spirit, and some of the life, that were implanted in her in the beginning and have lived and borne fruit throughout these years, our labors will not have been in vain.

“HILLMAN DEAR”

“As we the class of '29
Are leaving Hillman Dear,
We pause to cast a backward glance—
To shed a farewell tear.
We ne'er can tell you, dear Ole Stute,
Just what to us you've meant—
The hours and days that we've lived here
So happily we've spent.
The hikes and Stute walks we have taken,
And the frolics 'up on third'—
To those outside perhaps would seem
Decidedly absurd.
The teachers who have taught us here
We love them everyone—
They've been our friends, they've been our pals,
In both our work and fun.
We love the campus, all the walks,
We love the buildings, too—
We love all things, Oh Hillman Dear
Because—they make up you.”

As one who questioning stands
Upon the shores wet sands
And scans the horizon o'er,
With only the ceaseless ocean's roar
To answer his heart's demand,
"What is beyond the horizon's span?"
Eager we stand upon life's shore
Asking what it has in store;
Hoping, trusting as we set sail
To discover new worlds beyond the pale,
To search for knowledge till setting sun,
To put into port, life's victories won.

MORE LAMBS AT SCHOOL

(With apologies to Mary)

Patrons had some little girls,
As green as girls er'e grow,
And every where these poor girls went,
Their Greenness they did show.

These girls were sent down here to school
To have them taught some sense—
It made the "Stute" girls laugh and play
To see white girls so dense.

Mrs. Riley lectured oft and long,
And teachers did their best
To tutor these unlettered nuts,
And make them pass a test.

And now these little Freshmen girls,
These diamonds in the rough,
Their Freshman caps will soon lay off,
And "strut their college stuff."

The Service Seekers is a small band of consecrated Christian workers. Each girl has for her aim to uphold Christ and win the lost on the campus for Him. These girls work quietly and effectively, conscientiously and prayerfully. Until the session of 1927 they were known as the "Life Service Band" but it was found that some of the most useful workers were not "Life Service" students and the name was changed to "Service Seekers."

Hillman feels justly proud of its athletic record for the past season. She has made a success any school her size might envy. Basket ball was the primary feature and we wish we could dedicate a page to each player.

MISS JENNIE V. SUMMERS	Our Influential Jewel
MISS "BILL" DICKERSON	Our Popularity Jewel
MISS ETHEL COLEMAN	"Miss Hillman"

The Diamonds of Hillman so glorious
Make all our hearts beat with fond pride
For the lives they have led most victorious
By trials and hardships unawed.

“Full of life, and full of vigor
Full of health, and full of joy.”

“And still they gazed, and still the wonder grew,
That one small head could carry all
she knew.”

When the maiden touched the strings
"An angel heard and straight appeared Mistaken earth for heaven."

“Come, pensive nun, devout and pure
Sober, steadfast, and demure.”

“Source of our joy and gladness,
May your soul ever be
As far away from sadness
As the star is from the sea.”

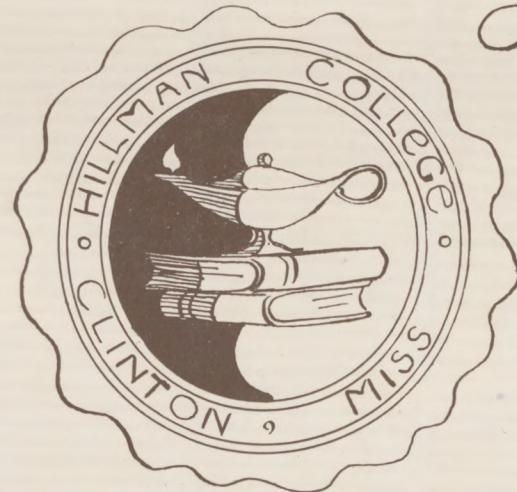

“A perfect woman, nobly planned,
To warn, to comfort, and command,
And yet a spirit still, and bright
With something of Angelic light.”

APPRECIATION

The Editor wishes to acknowledge her indebtedness, and express her appreciation for the co-operation of the staff, for the helpful suggestions of Miss Bettie Mae Collins, Mr. M. P. L. Berry, for the unflinching service of Alabama Engraving Company, Unglaub Studio, and The Tucker Printing House.

MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE

The matter of selecting a college for young men to attend is very important. A man's future usefulness and influence is largely determined by the college that trains his thinking and helps mold his character.

Mississippi College was founded in 1826 and today is the result of continued progressive activity and thought; her alumni are prominent in every worthy profession and business of the nation, and these are the test of the work and influences that are so carefully safe-guarded for each student's benefit that comes here.

Thorough and high scholarship, development of strong Christian character, and personal attention to each boy's needs have always been the applied ideals of Mississippi College.

For information as to the various courses offered and the reasonable expenses of attending Mississippi College, please write for catalog.

HILLMAN, A PIONEER

Hillman has always been a Pioneer. Seventy-five years ago when it was founded as Central Female Institute there were very few colleges for girls. It continued during the Civil War when the contending armies were in and around Clinton. It has stood the tests of time.

Twenty years ago many people thought Hillman could not survive when it was decided that it was to function as a Junior College, but Hillman was a Pioneer, and today educators all over the nation recognize the value and efficiency of the Junior College and it has become most popular.

When a Junior College commission was appointed in Mississippi, Hillman was placed on the accredited list at its first meeting. Again it was a Pioneer.

Now Hillman assumes the role of a Pioneer again in abandoning big crowded dormitories and adopting the plan of placing the boarding students in modern home-like brick bungalows grouped on the campus where they can be better protected from fire, contagious diseases and noise. This is one more step in carrying out the slogan “Happy, Home-Like Hillman.”

BUT I DO

My parents taught me not to paint,
 But I do.
Nor to make my face up like I ain't,
 But I do.

They told me that I should not wink
At nifty boys, nor even think
Of any trouser-wearing gink.
 But I do.

I paint my lips and powder my nose,
And flirt with my sister's beaux;
My folks say, "don't," and I say, "I won't,"
—But I do.

M. C. Boy: "Honey, I'd like to see you apart for a moment."
Stute Girl: "Say, kid, what you think I am, a puzzle for the little ones?"

"Statistics show that a college professor's chances for long life are better than a blacksmith's. A college professor does not have to shoe mules—He only teaches them."

Ignorant Freshie before Exams—(frantically).
"Tell me something about John Milton."

Ruminating Senior—"Well he got married, and wrote 'Paradise Lost.' His wife died, and he wrote 'Paradise Regained.'"

Sly Youth—"I suppose I'm only a pebble on the beach of your acquaintance."

Marjory—"That is true, but you'd stand a better chance if you were a little boulder."

Love never dies of starvation but often of indigestion.

Max—(In English misreading) " 'Orphans playing on his lute—' "

Miss Timberlake—"Lyre."
